VATICAN READY FOR CORONATION; KENNEDY IS DUE

VATICAN CITY, March 10 (AP)—For the first time, a President of the United States will be represented officially at the crowning of a Pope when Pius XII on Sunday receives his triple tiara amid scenes of medieval splendor on the loggia of St. Peter's basilica.

The American ambassador to London, Joseph P. Kennedy, is due in Rome tomorrow as the official American representative at the ceremony which is expected to draw the largest popular crowd ever assembled in the Eternal City.

KENNEDY, SON LEAVE

Ambassador Kennedy, accompanied by his son John, left London today.

Another son, Joseph, Jr., is in Madrid. The seven other Kennedy children left London for Rome Wednesday to join Mrs. Kennedy there.

Vatican authorities expect more than 350,000 persons to jam St. Peter's piazza and open spaces beyond to witness the coronation. Forty-five thousand may sit or stand inside the vast church throughout the five-hour pontifical mass preceding the coronation.

OUTSIDE OF ST. PETER'S

It will be the first time in nearly 100 years that a Pope has been crowned outside St. Peter's. The late Pius XI was crowned inside the basilica but, after the Lateran accord by which Italy and the church reconciled their differences, he made his first appearance on the balcony in 1929.

The coronation mass and ceremony will be broadcast to the world, also for the first time.

HONOR MOTHER SETON

Pope Pius blessed the cause for beatification of Mother Seton, founder of the Sisters of Charity of the United States, in private audience granted to Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia today.

The new Pontiff's benediction on the proceedings, which is successful make make Mother Seton the first American native saint, was requested by the cardinal, who has been actively promoting her cause.

After talking alone with the Pope for 45 minutes, the cardinal presented Father Salvatore Burgio of Philadelphia, vice postulator of the cause, and Antonio Filicini, member of the Italian family with whom Mother Seton lived when she embraced the Catholic faith.

Extortionist Gang Hunted By Police as Bombers Who Wrecked East Boston Cafe

Smalltime extortionen wrecked the Willis Cafe in Central Square, East Boston, with a bomb, early today, the blast nearly killing a night watchman.

BOMB CLUES—Sergt. Edward Scholtz, ballisticsian at police headquarters, examines fragments of bomb which shattered interior of East Boston cafe.

Daniel Grady, 60, of Concord street, East Boston, the watchman, escaped without injury.

He had stepped over the bomb while its fuse was burning, and had barely reached safety in the basement before the blast occurred.

As a result of the outrage, Captain Thomas Mulvey ordered a general roundup of petty gangsters. The arson squad was called upon for aid as well as fire department experts.

Two men were seized and taken to East Boston headquarters for questioning.

REOPEN FIRE PROBE

An investigation into a mysterious fire, which destroyed the cafe last October 25 was also reopened in belief the two events may be linked.

So-called "protection gangs" have long been a thorn in the side of East Boston police. Organized to prey upon small businessmen, and even large industries, dozens of depredations, including the turning over of three independent oil trucks, have been traced to them.

Police have found it difficult to cope with the gangs, however, because of reluctance of their victims to complain or testify against them.

Captain Mulvey has consequently inaugurated a "treat 'em rough" policy which he expects to be effective.

The bombers broke open a hole in the cafe door to plant the explosive, which was in the form of an aluminum cased powder bomb, similar to those used in fireworks displays.

A fuse was run through the hole, and lighted, newspapers being stacked around the bomb, itself.

The fuse had burned so close that Grady didn't even notice it when he entered, shortly after dawn, although he did see the hole in the door and thought that some revelers had made it.

BLAST WRECKS CAFE

A moment later the blast came, smashing 12 plate glass windows, the bar mirrors, ripping away sections of the ceiling and wrecking a mechanical music maker.

Umbert Antiello, a taxi driver, sent in a fire alarm when he heard the explosion, and saw smoke billowing out of the place. There was no fire however.

Willis LeBlanc is owner of the place. He was unable to give any information.

Brookline Physician Indicted by U. S. on Tax Evasion Charge

Dr. Jacob Aronson, prominent Brookline physician, formerly of Waban, was indicted by a federal grand jury here today on four counts of alleged income tax evasion.

The indictment charges that the doctor filed tax returns on an income totalling approximately $40,000 for the years 1932 to 1935, inclusive, whereas his real income, over that period, was approximately $100,000.

Government prosecutors said they had evidence indicating that large fees, many of them from fashionable women patients, were concealed by Dr. Aronson.

The indictment returned against him was the second obtained in federal court here in a drive against alleged "big shot" income tax evaders in Massachusetts.

First indicted was Charles H. McGlue, Boston attorney and former chairman of the Democratic state committee. In charge of the prosecution are Assistant United States District Attorney Leo Looney and Assistant U. S. Attorney Henry M. Leen.

5 Hurt in Milton Bus Accident

At least four persons were injured today in Route avenue, Milton, when an Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway bus collided with a truck, veered off, knocked down a pole and came to a stop at the edge of a marsh.

The driver of the truck and three of the bus passengers, two women and a man, were taken to Milton Hospital.

According to police, the accident occurred when the bus swung out of line in Granite avenue, near Neponset bridge, and attempted to pass.

IN ROME—William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, left, pictured with Msgr. Michael J. Splaine of Boston, as they started auto drive from Naples to Rome for papal conclave.

REENACTS FETE—When Alexander G. Bell completed the telephone, his first words were "Mr. Watson! Come quick! I need you!"—And so today, after 65 years, Don Ameche, film and radio star, re-enacts event. Ameche is shown at historic 99 Chaucey street, talking into ancient phone. He called and spoke with 13 Hearst editors in different cities.

DON AMECHE HAILED BY GIRL AT HUB PHONE BIRTHDAY FETE

While a cordon of struggling young men held back a mob of admiring girls who tried to "rush" the ceremonial chamber, Don Ameche, idol of millions, spoke to 13 editors of Hearst newspapers in as many cities at noon today from practically the exact spot where, 65 years ago, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell accidentally transmitted the first telephone message.

Link Kennedy Daughter And Marquis in Romance

Flowers that bloom in the English spring, now that April is almost here, tra la, may very well be keeping pace with a budding romance between Lord Hartington, the Marquis of Cavendish, son of the Duchess of Devonshire, and pretty Kathleen Kennedy, 18-year-old daughter of Boston's own Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to the Court of St. James.

One picture of the two together, coming from abroad, might be meaningless, but two pictures, made upon separate occasions at different places, coupled with cabled reports of their activities together, are important enough to make items like this for the folks back home.

The pictures were made at the Cambridge Steeplechase and at London's Cafe de Paris. Earlier cabled reports stated they were seen much together during the busy London season, attending many of the smart dances and parties, and that they also went together to the Langfield race-course.

Kennedy arrived back in London only two weeks ago, after reporting here to President Roosevelt on world affairs. He returned in time to help three of his children, including Kathleen, celebrate their birthdays. Kathleen and Jean, born on the same date but in different years, had a joint party two evenings after his return, while Teddy, 7, had his on Washington's Birthday, a date he shares with the father of his country.

Mrs. Kennedy is in Rome, while Joseph, Jr., is in Spain.

$7,000,000 Buildings Sold for $50

CHATHAM, March 10 (INS).—Bargain hunters today had purchased the old Chatham World War air base—valued at $7,000,000 in 1917—for $50.

ROMANTIC RUMORS—March in London seems to have the same effect, generally speaking, as April in Paris . . . for Cameraman Dan Cupid catches 18-year-old Kathleen Kennedy with Lord Hartington at the exclusive Cafe de Paris, London. All of which adds credence to rumors of romance.

Hubby a 'Cave-Man,' Suing Wife Testifies

With intent to "degrade and humiliate" her, her husband compelled her to drink half a water glass of whiskey, then tore her clothes off and forced her to submit to his "cave-man" love-making, a young and strikingly pretty Dedham wife charged in testimony today.

She took the stand in Dedham probate court, seeking a divorce on grounds of cruelty from Elmo V. Langley, Boston bookkeeper.

ONLY A "SLAVE"

After the alleged whiskey-drinking "cave-man" episode, he told her she was "just a slave" in his household and might as well make up her mind to it, the plaintiff wife, 26-year-old Mrs. Jean Perry Withington Langley, told the court.

Her divorce petition asked custody of a baby son, Roger, and alimony sufficient for his and her support.

The courtroom filled rapidly today, as the attractive young witness, petite, blue-eyed and having chestnut hair, told her story.

She wore a blue bolero costume which made the most of her slim and pretty figure.

"My husband's cruelty became unbearable after I went home from Dedham Hospital, where my baby was born," she testified.

ILL, HAD TO TOLL

"I only stayed at the hospital 12 days. I was still weak and ill when I returned to our apartment in Dartmouth street, Dedham.

"But my husband made me do all the housework, wash the dishes, care for the baby and even tend the furnace. He was out three or four nights a week until 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning.

"One night at supper time he came home and poured out two big water glasses half full of whiskey.

"I said I didn't want any, but he made me drink it. He threatened me and I was afraid not to.

"I felt the effects of it right away and I couldn't hold my fork or sit up in my chair, at table.

"He just laughed. Then he took me into the bedroom, tore all my clothes off and forced me to submit to his love-making.

"He was rough and brutal. Afterward he told me, 'you're just a slave in this household.'"

STOPPED ALLOWANCE

Mrs. Langley said her husband gave her $7.50 a week for house-

Women Sob At Trial of 'Bluebeard'

JEAN DE KOVEN
Her Slayer Smiles

VERSAILLES, March 10 (AP).—Eugene Weidmann, former German convict, marched smiling into court today and went on trial for his life charged with the murders of an American dancer, Jean De Koven, of Brooklyn, and five other persons for profit.

Several women relatives of the victims sobbed as Weidmann, who confessed five of the slayings, entered.

Jammed into the room were 14 black-robed lawyers, five red-robed judges, 40 prospective jurors, 84 newspapermen and 150 spectators.

After the 12 jurors were chosen by lot, Weidmann's smiling, joking attitude sobered somewhat. The tall German answered promptly in French the customary questions.

His alleged accomplices followed him before the judges for similar identification.

Weidmann declared himself ready to die as he was called to trial.

He told his woman lawyer, Renee Jardin, who is a former Wellesley College teacher, that "I want to be in order with God before appearing before Him," that he was reconciled to execution on the guillotine.

It was to Miss Jardin, favorite among his four attorneys, that he told the story of his "slayings for money," which included the strangling of Miss De Koven to obtain her money.

A heavy detail of police was assigned to guard the courthouse, only a short distance from the historic Chateau de Versailles, to control crowds which gathered early in the day.

On trial with Weidmann are Roger Million, 27, pink-cheeked, fair-haired Frenchman, charged with murder, robbery, complicity in murder, attempted fraud and receipt of stolen goods.

Colette Renee Tricot, 27, friend of Million, charged with receiving stolen goods.

Jean Blanc, 27, seriously looking Parisian wool merchant, who allegedly supplied money for the gang's operations, charged with association with criminals.

Saltonstall Denies Evading Tax Issue

"I am not going to pin myself down to any specific new taxes and I am not running away," Governor Saltonstall declared today in reply to Democratic House Minority Leader Albert E. Morris of Everett.

Representative Morris had charged the governor had "taken a run-out powder" by "disclaiming responsibility" for the proposed taxation program.

The governor, Morris said, had placed responsibility upon the shoulders of "a subordinate," Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long.

The taxation program advanced by Long and incorporated by Saltonstall in his budget message was designed to yield $12,000,000 this year and approximately $10,000,000 in 1940, and called for a broader income tax base, new levies on cigarette and sales of electrical energy, and an additional cent tax on gasoline.

"I'm not running away," the governor said at a press conference. "What I tried to say is that we must cut our expenses as far as we can and then we've got to find new revenue to aid real estate."

The governor said that in effect he told the Legislature if it didn't like the program offered by Long "then bring in other suggestions." "If anyone else has any suggestions, then let's not close the door to them," said the governor. He declared he submitted Long's program as the "most practical that I have seen so far."

Protest 1-Man Cars On Watertown Line

Protest against the substitution of one-man cars for the present two-man type on the Brighton-Newton-Watertown line was voiced today by the Ward 1 Improvement Association of Newton.

In a letter to Edward E. Whiting, chairman of the Boston Elevated trustees, Edward H. Powers, president of the association, asserted the one-man cars would endanger passengers, impair service and create crowded conditions. "The change of service goes into effect tomorrow."

SNOW'S PRETTY—But not, of course, when it does this to you. However, Mary Bonish, who took spillover, doesn't seem to be exactly angry, and Anna Stepanis, who's helping her up, thinks it's all great fun. It's all part of a good old New England winter.

Steals U. S. Mail Truck, So Well?

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Police Lieutenant Richard Swift reported the theft of a United States mail truck today—not for the mail it contained, but as a vehicle for a new father to carry news of the arrival of a daughter.

The truck disappeared from the postoffice loading platform. Five minutes later it was found stalled, with the proud father trying to start it.

"He thought it was an empty truck and he borrowed it to drive to his parents' home and tell them the good news," Swift said. The proud father was held for questioning by postal authorities.

More Snow Due In New England

More snow for northern New England and snow or rain for Boston were announced today as in prospect for the week-end. Fair and continued cold was the prediction for this afternoon and tonight.

Boston's snowfall in the storm just past was four and a half inches, weather bureau records showed. Highway conditions continued to be hazardous today, as emergency crews toiled to get hills and curves sanded.

Newton Vets Probe Asylum 'Railroading'

The Newton Veterans Council today entered the probe of charges that Newton war veterans receiving soldiers' relief have been railroaded to insane asylums.

Harold D. Ames, chairman of the Council, was expected to call a special meeting to consider allegations of Alderman Frank T. McCabe that a veteran was confined to the mental ward at Soldiers Hospital in Chelsea, only to be later proved sane, while a caretaker and two housekeepers, paid by the city, dwelt in his home.

Police Save Man From Auto Gas

Two policemen today saved the life of Frank McEarchern, 31, after finding him unconscious from carbon monoxide fumes in a parked car on State street, Cambridge.

The deadly gas was pouring into the car as Patrolman John Cahill and Thomas Carroll pulled out McEarchern. They administered artificial respiration. At Cambridge City Hospital McEarchern was fully revived with an inhalator. McEarchern, a native of Bath, Me., is an attendant at Veterans Hospital, Bedford.

'ELOPING FUN' SAY N. Y. PAIR

Wed here last night in spite of parents' objections, Kathleen Bryan, blonde Manhattan dancer, and Herschell Abramson, Greenwich Village portrait painter, are honeymooning by "doing the town" today and preparing to return to New York tomorrow.

The marriage followed an elopement and a waiver of the five-day law, obtained from Judge Elijah A. Shaw.

The bridegroom is 35 and the son of a wealthy parents. The bride played with Ed Wynn's "Laugh Parade."

While the pretty bride-to-be scurried around the Hub yesterday, shopping in preparation for the marriage, Abramson told the story of the romance.

"We've known each other for seven years," Abramson said. "We first met when she posed for a portrait which was later hung in the Waldorf-Astoria galleries."

"My father offered strenuous objections to our getting married and was quite upset about it. We decided three days ago not to upset him further, but to elope."

His statuesque blonde fiancée returned to the hotel as he spoke, and laughingly "explained" it all.

"I'm in love. He's in love. That levels off any religious or racial differences, you might have thought of. I certainly never gave it a thought, except that I sympathize with my fiancée's position concerning his desire not to upset his father."

She announced, however, that a wire had been sent to her parents, who are in Florida, announcing their intentions, and a reply with their blessings has been received at the hotel.

ELOPES—Kathleen Bryan, New York dancer, who eloped from Gotham to Boston, obtained 5-day waiver in municipal court here and wed Herschell Abramson, Greenwich Village artist.

New Devices for Infants' Care Introduced to Hospital Heads

Cubicles in which babies are placed shortly after birth are now in use at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. Dr. Henry M. Pollock, superintendent, disclosed at the opening of the 17th annual meeting of the New England Hospital Association.

He predicted this and other devices would prevent the spread of infection and lower the infant mortality rate.

Dr. Pollock said his and other hospitals were giving more individualized care to babies, and finding it well worth while. Another innovation highly praised by the superintendent was the use of hot water in incubators for premature children. He said the plan was responsible for saving many lives.

James A. Hamilton, superintendent of the New Haven Hospital urged hospital officials to act more intelligently and understandingly in dealing with their personnel. He said that petty grievances caused more labor trouble in hospitals than major differences.

HOPE TO SALVAGE RADIUM IN ASHES

Technicians at Cambridge City Hospital were busy today trying to salvage the $12,000 silver of radium which was inadvertently cast aside and later turned up in a pile of ashes.

Doctors think that 90 per cent of its value can be retrieved although it will take several months and cost several hundred dollars for salvage operations.

The search for the radium went on for hours, not only because of its intrinsic value, but because radium in the wrong hands, can be as deadly as it is life-saving when properly administered.

Science was brought to the aid of the doctors when an all-day search failed to locate it. With a Geiger counter electroscop, Dr. J. Cramer Hudson of the Huntington hospital and Russell F. Cowing, radium and X-ray expert at Palmer Memorial hospital went in search of the elusive substance.

All refuse collected in the vicinity of the hospital was ordered held by Mayor Lyons. Into the basement the doctors went with the delicate instrument sensitive to the bombardment of radium rays.

There they found it in the ashes which had been taken from this furnace.

BOY, 10, IS RESCUED FROM NEWTON POND

Ten-year-old Louis Galleani's cold nearly cost him his life today by drowning.

Louis remained home from school with his cold, but decided to go to the store for cough drops. He took a short-cut across Silver Lake from his home in Nevada street, Newtonville, and broke through the ice.

His screams were heard by Reud Mooers, 53 of Parsons street, West Newton, a carpenter, who ran from his job on a house in Watertown street.

Mooers seized a long pole and went out on the ice.

He broke through up to his hips, but scrambled back on the ice and succeeded with the pole in pulling Louis out.

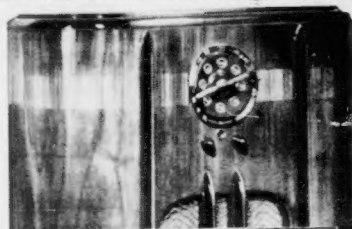

The carpenter took the boy to Rose 8, firehouse, at Watertown and Bridge streets, where firemen stripped him and wrapped him in blankets. From there police took him to Newton Hospital, and then home.

The cold was no better.

14 FLEE 2 FIRES IN SOUTH END

Fourteen persons were driven to the street today by two fires in West Concord street, South End, the two fires being in adjoining lodging houses and causing pupils in a nearby school to flee out twice.

When it was all over, West Concord street decided it had had enough excitement for one day.

The first blaze was in the four-story brick lodging house owned by Mrs. Norah Driscoll, 70; started from the basement heater and caused damage of about $900.

CARRY OUT WOMAN

Although Mrs. Driscoll protested that she did not want to leave the house, firemen carried her out. Nine lodgers made their way out unscathed.

This blaze was out, and all apparatus except the protective department wagon had left, when smoke began to roll out of the adjoining lodging house, also a four-story brick.

The protective men sounded another alarm, bringing the firemen again as four lodgers hastily left the second building.

PUPILS FLEE

Meanwhile the pupils of the Louise Alcott School, two doors away, had fled out during the first fire and then fled back to classrooms again. Now, for the second time, they emerged in fire drill, but when firemen said there was no danger the youngsters were turned around and marched back inside.

The second blaze, which caused only slight damage, is believed to have been a hangover from the first, with some of the blaze remaining hidden in the walls when the firemen left the first fire.

Stokowski Tour To Carbo Home

PHILADELPHIA, March 10 (AP)—For the first time in his life Leopold Stokowski is planning to conduct symphony orchestras in European cities, among them that in Greta Garbo's home town—Stockholm, Sweden.

He disclosed in an interview he would go to Stockholm on a European tour next month.

"Will Garbo be there?" he was asked.

"I never discuss my personal affairs," said Stokowski.

He said he would conduct eight concerts here before sailing for London.

"I love Europe and I've always wanted to conduct there," Stokowski said. "But I have waited until I have reached the stage of mastery I desired. . . I think I have reached it now."

200 Czech Families Find Homes in Canada

VICTORIA, B. C., March 10 (Canadian Press)—Two hundred Catholic German families from Czechoslovakia will be settled on private lands in the Fraser valley and Peace river districts of British Columbia, provincial officials said today.

Each of the families will have at least $1500. They are from selected farm groups formerly living in the Sudeten region.

80,000 U. S. Women Enrolled in Y. M. C. A.

SEATTLE, March 10 (AP)—Women are joining the Young Men's Christian Association.

"We find they are a good influence and we welcome them," said Ecklin Carlson of Des Moines, president of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., today. "We now have 80,000 women enrolled throughout the United States."

Sallies Board Honors McMillan

The Greater Boston advisory board of the Salvation Army paid tribute today to Lieut.-Col. Donald McMillan, soon to leave New England provincial commander's post, as they met for their annual meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

WOMAN, GRANDSON DIE IN R. I. BLAZE

PROVIDENCE, March 10—A woman of 72 and her small grandson, who was visiting her as a reward for good behavior, were suffocated here today. They died hand in hand, trying to grope their way through a smoke-filled hall as fire swept a three-family house in congested Cedar street.

Five other occupants of the tenement saved themselves by jumping from the windows of their second floor flat to the roof of a garage.

A man and his wife and baby, occupying the ground floor, were taken out unconscious by firemen and police.

The dead are Mrs. Mary Sorenson and John D. Bazzio, 9, her grandson. They had been on the third floor.

REWARD FOR BOY

The boy lived with his parents in Frederick street, and had been granted permission to spend the night with his grandmother, his fearful parents said, "because he had been such a good boy."

The fire started in a closet on the third floor, which fire officials reported was stuffed with painters' supplies. A painter had been at work there as late as nine last night, police reported.

The five who saved themselves by jumping are Mr. and Mrs. John Guerry; his mother, Mrs. Mary Guerry, 70; their sons, George, 12, and John, 9.

The garage is a squat structure, a few feet below the second floor of the house. None of the five was injured.

THREE RESCUED

Domenic Rosso, 25, his wife, Mary, 23, and their daughter, Mary, two, were unconscious when police and firemen forced a hole through the roof and brought both bodies out.

Rescuers included Sergeant Dennis Rutko and Patrolman J. McGuire.

In an attempt to rescue Mrs. Sorenson and her grandson, the firemen cut a hole through the roof and brought both bodies out.

Tobacco and tools took turns working over the two for several hours.

Mother, Girl Saved at Medford Fire

Trapped by flames which roared through hall and stairway of their home, a Medford mother and 12-year-old daughter were carried down ladders by firemen today. The father, Harry N. Whaley, jumped from a second story window into a snowbank. He was uninjured.

The blaze started in the cellar of the Whaley home in Warren street, West Medford. "Careless smoking" was blamed. Damage was estimated at $3000.

The fire spread rapidly to the second floor, cutting off escape of Mrs. Frances Whaley and the child, Eva Whaley.

While firemen were rescuing them, Mrs. Whaley's husband jumped to safety from his own bedroom window, which was nearer the ground because of location of the house on a slope.

Stearns Leaves Estate in Trust

Under the will of Frank W. Stearns, noted Boston merchant, filed today for probate, a trust fund is created for the widow, Mrs. Emily W. Stearns, during her life, and after her death for his children and grandchildren.

Miss Helen G. Moore, his secretary, named as a trustee under the will and also executrix, receives an annuity for life.

Trustees named with her are Foster Stearns of Hancock, N. H., a son of the merchant, and Henry W. Giese of Wellesley, a son-in-law.

No indication of the size of the estate is given.

MISSING—Gone from her Roxbury home for two days, Geraldine Swain, 14, today was being sought by Boston police over radio and teletype throughout all New England.

All N. E. Hunts Missing Girl

By radio and teletype, Boston police today requested New England police to help search for Geraldine Swain, 14, of Anita terrace, Roxbury.

The girl disappeared after leaving for class in the James P. Timilty School last Monday. Her father, Albert Terrace, reported her as missing Tuesday night.

The girl was wearing a black and red raincoat, with ski hat

'CURFEW' DECISION AWAITED

Deluged with conflicting testimony, Boston's Licensing Board was today considering the application for an entertainment license for a restaurant in Hancock street, Beacon Hill, but in the face of strenuous opposition.

Those on the "nay" side argued that Beacon Hill was so strict all radios were turned off at 11 at night, and once some of the extremists tried to stop Christmas caroling because it lasted beyond that hour.

Misses Edith Simpson and Helen Newland applied for the entertainment license. They said they wanted to employ students to play piano, and the boys could earn their meals by performing.

Opposing the license, Miss Ida J. Converse, who lives next door on Hancock st., declared that the piano often was played until late at night, and that several times she had been forced to complain to the police about it.

Miss Simpson admitted that she had sometimes allowed the piano to be played in the evening, after the restaurant had closed, but said she had never allowed anyone to play it after 11 o'clock.

She told the board that Miss Converse "was always complaining" and once tried to get the police to make the carollers stop singing after eleven o'clock.

Miss Converse, however, declared that the music often continued until late and that several of the roomers in her house were threatening to leave.

Charles Manser, also of Hancock st., insurance broker, declared that the piano playing might prove a hindrance to the carrying on of business in the State House, directly across the street.

Also opposed, on the grounds that the piano might destroy the "residential character of the neighborhood" was Charles M. Davenport of the Beacon Hill Association.

She Had a Long Wait

CHICAGO, March 10 (INS).—Nine years is long enough for any wife to await the return of her husband, Mrs. Ann Gannon believes. She told Judge Philip Finnegan today:

"When my husband, Frank, left me in 1926, he said for me to go to bed because he would be a little bit late. I'm tired of waiting."

"Your waiting is over," said the judge. "Divorce granted."

Perkins Answers Charge of Laxity

Telephone charges of laxity in a Superior court judge, Commissioner Charles T. Perkins of the State Department of Motor Vehicles, today asserted that delays in the processing of applications for licenses are "things over which we do not have control."

The commissioner's statement was made in answer to charges that he had been lax in his duties. Perkins said that the department had been "very busy" in the past few months.

The routine requires that we be notified by the clerk of court. We then assign the examining doctor immediately in all cases except capital crimes.

"The physicians who make the examination are outside physicians and not employees of this department. Sometimes they are able to make examinations within a few hours, sometimes within a day, sometimes it takes a day or two or three days."

"As far as I know, we have always given every cooperation to the judiciary of Massachusetts."

JAP-SOVIET CLASH

TOKYO, March 10 (AP)—A Tokyo dispatch from the Associated Press today said that Japanese troops had been ordered to attack the Soviet border near Chienlin and attacked a border station. Casualties were not stated, but Domei said the attack was repulsed.

Harvard 'Film Reading' Aids Student

A group of 16 Harvard freshmen have increased their reading speed by 50 per cent, following the first experimental test in reading future technique for training in reading, it was announced today. The experiment has been conducted on for the past eight weeks under sponsorship of the Harvard Graduate School of Education. The technique was developed by Prof. Walter F. Dunning, a member of the Harvard psychology department, and by Irving H. Alexander, an instructor in education, with co-operation of James H. Brewster, director of the Harvard Film Service.

The technique consists in "silent reading" of a series of words and phrases, accompanied by the absorption of the eye movements of the students.

The students showed not only a increased speed in reading but a general higher average in comprehension, since the beginning of the tests.

Film material in the new process, Harvard authorities announced, is now ready for distribution to schools and colleges throughout the country.

AFL TO PRESENT NEW PEACE PLAN

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—In a new effort to bring peace to labor, delegations of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations assembled here today for fresh negotiations.

Earlier Washington conferences had brought first a proposal by John L. Lewis, CIO president, for the formation of one big new union embracing AFL, CIO and the four independent and powerful railroad brotherhoods; an initial refusal by federation leaders to consider such a formula, and a subsequent decision to do so.

This agreement to make the Lewis plan at least the basis for possible discussion did not further commit the federation leadership which was understood to have prepared proposals of its own for possible acceptance.

For Lewis the day brought a dash of duty, since he is presiding over the 16-member policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America which is formulating demands to be presented next Tuesday to numerous coal operators of the eight-state Appalachian district. The union's current labor contract expires March 21.

The resignation of the union's AFL-CIO proxy government, which was scheduled for April 1, was won by Harry C. Estes, secretary of the district.

The proxy government of the union, based on the refusal of Lewis to accept the resignation, was not previously recognized as legitimate. It was the first time in the district's history that an organized labor in the country had a voice in a total man-management agreement by the two groups of men.

Kane, Aldermen War Over Budget

Mayor William F. Kane of Woburn and his obstreperous council of aldermen were deadlocked today in a "finish fight" over the city's budget.

By a vote of 12 to 2 the $100,000 figure submitted by the mayor was turned down at a four-hour meeting of the council. Finally and by agreement the turning down of the budget must stay on "It was rejected because it contained insufficient funds to meet the requirements of law."

Salaries of teachers, principals and paraprofessionals for the year ended 2000 total $50,000, which would require a 6.7% reduction in the tax rate.

"The people voted to have those salaries cut," Mayor Beane said today, so I'm not going to change the budget one bit. I'm doing what the people want. The city won't close. It runs on last year's figures until the new budget goes in, according to law.

The abridgment seems to be in favor of higher taxes. Maybe they think people in Woburn are different from people anywhere else. Maybe they think Woburn people like to pay taxes.

WPA NEED CITED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that the Federal Works Administration (F.W.A.) must be cited for its failure to do its job.

The President's statement was made in a letter to the Congress, which he said was "a severe rebuke to the F.W.A. for its failure to do its job."

The President said that the F.W.A. had failed to do its job in many ways, including its failure to provide work for the unemployed, its failure to provide for the needs of the unemployed, and its failure to provide for the needs of the unemployed.

MARY MACMAHON

GENEVIEW WINSOR, center; FRANCES DRURY. DIVORCES ASKED—In Suffolk court, Mrs. Mary Shay MacMahon and Mrs. Genevieve Winsor won divorces, but Mrs. Frances Drury's petition was refused when judge said he did not believe her story of mates' girlfriend. Cruelly grounds won the decrees.

Silence Spurs Wife to Sue

SATFEM, March 10. Her husband's silence was the cause of a divorce suit filed today in Suffolk county court by Mrs. Mary Shay MacMahon.

"He just got sick of me," she told the court. "He told me he hated the sight of my face. My arms were always black and blue, where he banged me with his elbows."

"Whenever I stepped in front of him anywhere, he'd shove me back, telling me, 'Get first!'"

Judge John A. Casady took the case for a divorce.

How to Ease CHEST COLD MISERY

FIRST massage throat chest and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. This relieves the distress.

THEN to make his long continue at bed even longer, spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

LONG AFTER sleep comes, VapoRub keeps working. Loosens phlegm, eases irregular snoring or rattles, clears air passages, soothes coughing, relieves nasal congestion.

Get Vicks VapoRub in the word of the cold doctor.

Wife Hit by Bible Wins Divorce Decree

George S. Winsor's charge of weapons was a bit unusual when he hit her with a Bible. Mrs. Mary Shay MacMahon was notified today in private court, in without a trial.

Winsor, 35, was charged with the possession of a dangerous weapon, a Bible, which he used to hit his wife, Mrs. Mary Shay MacMahon, 35, on the head, on July 1, 1938, in the home of the couple, 1000 Washington street, in the North End. Mrs. MacMahon was notified today in private court, in without a trial.

"That was kind of knocking religion into you," remarked Judge Mahoney.

PICTURES TELL STORY OF PAPAL ELECTION

Procession—Cardinals enter sacred conclave in Vatican . . . preparatory to election of Pope. After third ballot it was announced that Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli was elected . . . to be Pope Pius XII.
(All Photos by International News Service.)

Smoke—Eyes of world were focused upon this smoke stack . . . twice black smoke was seen . . . and then (as here) the white wisp proclaimed the election of Cardinal Pacelli.

Obeisance

—Following Cardinal Pacelli's election, the Cardinals paid obeisance to him as Pope Pius XII . . . and here the new Pontiff is seen in doorway of Sistine Chapel, with Cardinals.

"It's White!"—Group of on-lookers catch first glimpse of white smoke rising from the chimney . . . an umbrella is pointed. The world hails the election of Pope Pius XII.

Announcement—Cardinal Decaon Caccia Dominoni announces the election of Pope Pius XII from St. Peter's balcony in Rome . . . to some 250,000 persons gathered below.

Cheers—Part of the great crowd that gathered about the Vatican is shown here . . . hailing the announcement of Cardinal Pacelli's election as Pope with cheers. (Even as they were cheering, the Boston American's presses ground out the story . . . being sold 20 minutes before other afternoon papers here.)

BLONDIE

The Big, Bad "Wolfe"

Added Support Voiced For Hearst 'Boom Plan'

Special to Boston Evening American
New York, March 10.—William Randolph Hearst's "Boom Plan" for prosperity broadcast to the nation in a radio address was praised by more New York business leaders today.

The club branch held out by the administration to industry in Harry Hopkins' recent Des Moines speech was the subject of Mr. Hearst's address.

Indicating that in view of previous experience the business made by government could not be depended upon, Mr. Hearst advocated the repeal of confiscatory taxes as the one act necessary to remedy the present situation.

Executives in various industries voiced their wholehearted support of Mr. Hearst's suggestion that governmental expenditures relating to business be improved so that the unemployment fund can be repaired and production increased.

"There isn't a business man in the nation who would not agree with what Mr. Hearst said in his address," declared W. E. McKel, president of the New York Board of Trade.

"Certainly business is not going forward until the thought expressed by Mr. Hearst is emphasized in Washington. It isn't enough that suggestions are made, that government representatives rely on platitudes. Something definite has to be done and repeal of excessive taxes would be one of such measure. Business must know that the course ahead is secure and that there will not be a shift from side to side before it will venture ahead."

Frank A. K. Boland, general counsel for the American Hotels Association, said:

"Mr. Hearst made a good speech. I think now of the statement 'prosperity is just around the corner.' It has run so far around the corner and is so far away that you can't see it with a telescope."

"Right now there is a feeling of lack of confidence, which is accentuated by high taxes. New they threaten to give us another dose of the terrible stuff."

Clark G. Dailey, president of the real estate board of New York, said:

"Mr. Hearst is right. The present administration has lent the confidence of business men beyond the power of Harry Hopkins to restore it in one speech."

"We must move toward a balanced budget. We need economy rather than taxation. We must stop trying to reform the patient and try to get him well."

Samuel Langport, leader in the textile industry, said:

"I concur in what Mr. Hearst has said. There has been too much theorizing and experimenting. We have got to think now in terms of actual productivity and find an intelligent way of distributing what the blessings of the Lord has given us."

"Government must play the game with industry on a scientific basis."

Stock Prices Fail to Hold Early Upturn

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Efforts to pump rallying fuel in the stock market met with only a limited success today. While many foreign markets had posted new highs in the early morning dealings, the market later conceded most of its gains, returning to a point not far from where it was when the market opened yesterday.

U. S. SEEKS NAZI TRADE IN BRAZIL

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) — America's new credit agreement with Brazil was described by President Roosevelt today as meaning increased trade and strengthened relations between the two countries.

The Chief Executive said also the part should contribute to improvement in the general international picture.

He is very happy he said that negotiations worked out as well.

Through the new agreement this agreement will begin a broad offensive to capture Germany's citadel of Latin American trade.

Three federal agencies — the State and Treasury Departments and the Export-Import Bank — were ready to carry out the program of economic cooperation agreed upon yesterday between Secretary Hall and Foreign Minister Aranha of Brazil.

A credit of $19,200,000 from the Export-Import Bank to free Brazil's foreign exchange.

Long-term credits from the Export-Import Bank to American manufacturers and exporters of goods to Brazil.

$50,000,000 gold from the United States Treasury to back a new Brazilian central reserve bank and assist in stabilizing Brazil's currency.

To resume payments on her dollar indebtedness, amounting to $357,000,000, beginning July 1.

To develop products such as rubber, quinine, vegetable oils and hardwoods, which the United States now buys from other parts of the world.

There is such a rubber shortage in war goods, and the only way to get them in Brazil would be to let the United States deliver the raw material, which it has.

As the Department of Education has a limited budget, it is not possible to have a large number of experts in the field of education.

On the other hand, the effect of a country's industrial structure on its share in Brazil at the export market is mixed. The effect of the number of firms in Brazil's export sector will not be too important for the long-run effects of industry structure on its export, which, along with currency has been considered.

Employers' Associates Value Up

The annual report for 1938 of the Employers Group, A Limited, states that the liquidating or asset value of the stock on December 31 was $763 a share, an increase of over 11 per cent as compared with an asset value of $681 on December 31, 1937.

On a commercial basis combining the 14 established and unestablished earnings of the tax-exempt owned subsidiaries and the other liabilities and income is found the 8 best earnings were $1,72,087 equal to $11 a share in the 323,931 shares held by the public. On the same basis earnings in 1947 amounted to $1.42 a share.

Net income actually received by Employees Group Association after expenses and federal taxes, amounted to $617,846 for the year. Dividends totaling $14,500 were paid in 1978.

On January 31, 1934, the regular dividend of 25 cents a share and an extra of 25 cents a share were paid.

RUKEYSER

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

International News Service Economic Commentator

NEW YORK, May 14.—(U.S. News.) Business welcomed the good news from Washington that new taxes and a proposed reduction in the estate tax would have a particularly onerous effect on the oil industry.

[illegible]

"The effect of high taxes is cumulative, inevitably increasing costs and raising prices to the ultimate consumer. This decreases the volume of goods which could be otherwise sold. Net profits are reduced, the volume of business operations is decreased, and there results a smaller base on which taxes can be levied," says one industrial economist.

"Present rates and forms of taxation are cumulative in their injury, and, from their very nature, tend ultimately to restrict business expansion."

CAPITAL'S GAIETY CURBED BY STRIKE

WASHINGTON, March 10 (INS)—The Department of Labor today moved for continuation of the two-day hotel strike constraining the official and social life of the national capital, by summoning a peace conference between the strikers and hotel owners.

But despite the federal government's intervention, the two-day strike in Washington, which began last night, has not been broken. The American Hotel Association, which represents the hotel owners, announced that it had received a letter from the Department of Labor, asking it to call a conference with the strikers.

You Can Be Beautiful

For the Blossomy Look

By ARLINE GOULD

IT'S THE HEARTS and flowers for a new look. Update this spring, if you're to keep pace with fashion and beauty developments.

Sirens in dramatic tones of purple we were as we strode through the winter scene, and though the six tones keep their wistful popularity, the make-up that goes with them have also been "pinkened" to the flowery tones of the month.

For this look, beauty experts say you'll wear a make-up that has never had a parallel. It is a look on watercolor tones and is as soft as a handful of baby kisses.

Because its head emphasis would make an artist's delight, you can put a row of trait of yourself and a row of endless and natural as of itself.

It is a truly toned, professional we achieve, with accents of light blue. The a lot of the fresh pink tones. The a lot of the fresh pink tones. The a lot of the fresh pink tones.

Delightful with flower prints and with navy or black. With navy or black and white, you look past.

Gus Van Wins New Vaudeville Laurels on Boston's Stage

THE WEIGHT of his potential generalship appears to sober Allan Curtis already. He and Joan Fontaine are featured in "The Duke of West Point," scheduled to follow "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man" at the Keith Memorial.

D'Oyly Carte Opera Here Next Month

The D'Oyly Carte Opera Company, which has been touring the United States for many years, will appear at the Keith Memorial Theatre in Boston next month. The company, which was founded by the late Sir Arthur Sullivan and his wife, Mrs. Kate Sullivan, is one of the most famous opera companies in the world. It has given many successful productions, including "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Mikado." The company is now touring with a new production, "The Duke of West Point," which is a comedy opera by Sullivan and his wife. The production is directed by the company's manager, Mr. D'Oyly Carte. The company is expected to arrive in Boston in early April and will perform for several weeks.

Hollywood Paragraphs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

You can always expect W. A. Brady, well known stage producer and Alice's father, to have news of the ones, too.

Our old friend says Hollywood is becoming important to Broadway, and here here now to sign some of our movie favorites to a permanent stock company.

Encouraged by the success of the musical "The Great Waltz" with Laurence, Pauley, Florence Reed, and others, and Helen Chandler, W. A. would like to see his own and other movie stars.

He says Katherine Hepburn is the only lady who makes it pay, and that a theater can't lose money on her. He says that the March 10th show, "The Great Waltz," and Walter Huston are all bringing in big money, and that the daily business is very good.

SHAW'S 'PYGMALION' WARMLY WELCOMED AT LOEW'S

Wendy Hiller's Acting Lauded

By PEGGY DOYLE

George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" has been warmly welcomed at Loew's, the most important of New York's theaters, and has been running for several weeks. The play, which was written in 1913, is a comedy of manners, and is the story of a poor girl who is transformed into a lady by the efforts of a phonetician.

The first London production of "Pygmalion" was given at the Lyric Theatre, and it was a great success. It was then produced in New York at the Theatre Guild, and it was also a great success. The play has since been produced in many other theaters, and it has always been a popular success.

The present production at Loew's is a very fine one. It is directed by George Cukor, and it is starred by Wendy Hiller. Hiller's performance is particularly lauded. She plays Eliza Doolittle, the poor girl who is transformed into a lady. Her acting is very fine, and she has won many prizes for her performance.

The production is very well mounted. The costumes are very fine, and the sets are very beautiful. The music is also very good. The play is a very fine comedy, and it is a very good example of Shaw's writing. It is a play that is well worth seeing.

RUTH CHATTERTON's new play "West of Broadway" ends its run at the Wilbur on March 18, then goes to Philadelphia before invading New York.

From Ashes Rise Lost $105

NEW BEDFORD, March 10.—The federal treasury, coming to the aid of a $100 insurance agent today.

The agent had "kicked away" $107 in expenditures in the family gas oven. His wife lit the stove and the money burned. The agent, name undisclosed, took the ashes to a bank, which sent them to the Treasury Department.

Now the agent has been told the treasury will send him a check for only $2 less than the sum which went up in smoke.

BE HANDY, WIN LENS TRIP PRIZE

When the breeze is heavy over the Flushing Meadows and the myriad tales of light sweep on it. Work you get the idea, anyhow. If you're handy with a camera and try your luck in the big camera contest you have a good chance to find yourself at the New York World's Fair this summer.

That June trip to Coney Island as well as a chance to share in $1000 in cash prizes all can be yours if you will let your camera do a bit of work for you.

The attractive awards are being offered by the New York World's Fair, Inc. in connection with the new camera contest being sponsored in cooperation with the New York World's Fair, Inc.

To be eligible for this prize you must take a picture, make a slide, and send it to the contest office at the New York World's Fair, Inc., 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York 10, N. Y.

After you have taken the picture or picture with your camera and set on the film, you will have to wait for the results of the contest. The prize is a trip to Coney Island, N. Y., for you and your family.

Mystery Police Calls Traced to Bogus 'Cops'

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—For the past three weeks the desk sergeant at the Sheffield avenue police station has been mystified by a daily call at 7 a. m.

The invariable message was: "This is operative No. 1 reporting. Everything is O. K."

The sergeant put it down as the work of a wag—until last night when Harvey Cook, 37, was taken into custody on an open charge.

The police said Cook identified the persistent caller as Herman Grau, 45, whom he met three weeks ago. Cook, the police related, persuaded Grau to become a special plainclothes policeman by paying $25 for a gun and star.

Grau's beat, as laid out by Cook, extended from Lake street to Harry avenue. Allowing for alley inspections and other jobs it covered more than six miles, a long beat in any policeman's book.

Portus Anderson, 41, told the police he became a prospective patrolman a few days ago, after meeting Cook. For two nights he accompanied Grau, but he wondered why they had been told to avoid other policemen.

When Anderson met Cook last night he was accompanied by three plainclothesmen and ones—who arrested Cook. The officers later went to Grau's home. They learned he was out, pounding his beat.

$1000 HOTEL HOLDUP

CHICAGO, March 10 (INS)—Four masked bandits armed with a sawed-off shotgun and revolver early today held up the cashier at the hotel Sherman and escaped with $1000 cash.

Quiz 10 Boys In Theft 'Ring'

Several South Boston storekeepers were questioned today following the arrest of 10 boys blamed by police for the baffling wave of stealing thefts from which Old Harbor Village has suffered for three months.

Described by police as "super-boy-racketeers," the youths, ranging in age from 12 to 16, are said to have cashed about $100 in stolen checks at neighborhood stores.

Police were trying to find out just how the checks were cashed.

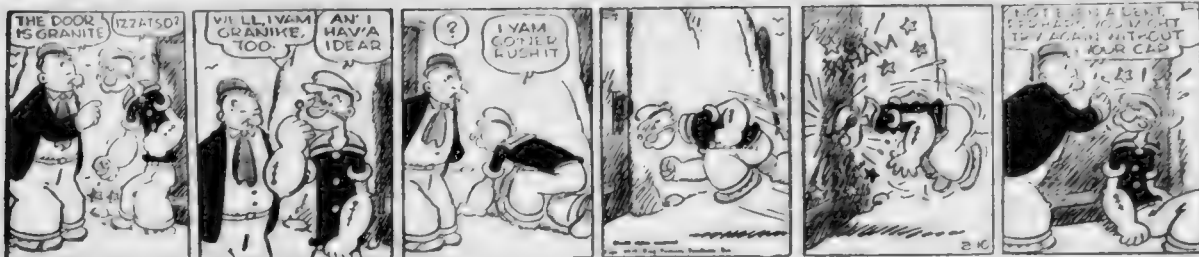

Arrest of the boys followed two months of investigation by Special Officers John J. McCarthy, William D. Finnegan, Patrick J. Davis and James J. Donohue.

The check books were discovered, police said, when it was noted that certain youths lurked near mail boxes after the postman's visit.

Special officers, claiming to have confessions, said the youths admitted an elaborate setup, including lookouts, a telephone for an official "check and cash."

Austen Lake: WHY THE GARDEN WOOS DOG RACING

THERE IS NO MYSTERY BEHIND the Boston Garden's wish to install a greyhound track and gallop the gambling pooches for 11½ per cent of the pari-mutuel take. The management must find some means of keeping the big ark busy during those heartbreak months of April to September, when nothing gathers there but cobwebs. The Garden needs increased revenue more than an anemic patient needs extract of liver. Dog racing may be the cure.

Austen Lake

This opens a melancholy matter. For when the big sports loft was being built in 1923 it was touted to stock purchasers as a golden goose which would lay 18 karat dividends in such sweet profusion that bond holders could give the rest of their lives to golf and fishing.

It proposed to monopolize indoor sports in a city which was reckoned the No. 2 athletic center of the U. S. A. The stock market was in mid-delirium. Money was printed for spending. Boxing was having its biggest boom. Wrestling, hockey, track, the circus, rodeos, carnivals and social shindigs would keep it in a wild whirling of action with the people storming the doors. That was the dream and, no doubt, at the time, it seemed reasonable.

As Rickard Dreamed It.

BUT THE MOURNFUL RECORD OF ELEVEN years shows that the Garden came a cropper from the start. In eleven years it has never earned enough to pay the mortgage. The year after it opened the plug was pulled, money began to flow out of the place and the management was left with a big hole in the pocket. The Garden was left with a big hole in the pocket. The Garden was left with a big hole in the pocket.

New York Thumbed Sonja Down

BUT IT DIDN'T COME OFF. Because, soon after the Boston Garden was started as the first of the series, Rickard went home and died. With him went his magic touch. For none of the New York group had his promotional instinct, nor much else than a New Yorker's attitude that other outside Manhattan were just Indian villages incapable of appreciating big-time enterprise.

So after a few years of antagonistic struggle, in which the New York Garden threw all the major shows and gave Boston only the runs and losses, the Boston & Maine railroad, as principle mortgagee, stepped in and scooped up the chips. And by that time even the Madison Square Garden was having a terrific financial flop—the day of the older sports era was past.

The late George V. Brown made a gallant fight of things here, being first to sense the fascination of Sonja Henie and launch her on

Pitt Students Parade for Sutherland

PITTSBURGH, March 10 (AP).—A noisy crowd of students staged a demonstration at the University of Pittsburgh today against the resignation of "Jack" Sutherland, football coach.

About 50, from the dental and law departments, paraded about the campus and edged into classrooms yelling to recruits to join. They picked up about 200 supporters.

Students were carried reading "Watch Your Time Football Coach, Mr. Sutherland"; "In the Face of Death"; and "Today We Stride for the Glory of Pitt."

Jack Sharkey licked Harry Wills before he ever saw the "Black Menace." It was while in the Navy that Sharkey got the mental complex that enabled him to crush Wills, the colored heavyweight whom neither Jack Dempsey or Gene Tunney would meet.

There was a colored heavyweight who was called "Black Menace" and who was a real terror in the ring. He was a big, powerful fellow, and he was a real fighter. He was a real terror in the ring, and he was a real fighter. He was a real terror in the ring, and he was a real fighter.

"Hello, Harry," exclaimed Sharkey, "I could see the flash below Wills' heart moving, and this convinced me Harry's heart was throbbing."

KEEPS EYES ON WILLS

As Wills was being examined, Sharkey kept his eyes focused upon the colored heavyweight's heart.

"I wanted to see if he were nervous," said Sharkey. "As I watched, I could see the flash below Wills' heart moving, and this convinced me Harry's heart was throbbing."

"I have Wills licked now," he said. "Wills knows it, too. I could tell by the way his eyes shifted when I stared at him."

"But that was from your hair," Wills said to Sharkey as they waited for Referee Fats Holly to give them instructions.

"If you don't like it, rub it off yourself," growled Sharkey.

Northboro Girls' Club In Tourney

By WALTER KILEY

Washington Jewelry Company, through its two Washington street stores today enters the list of prize donors for the fourth annual Boston Evening American-Daily Record candlepin bowling championships.

The Washington Jewelry Company has played an important part in making possible grand victory awards since the American Record tourney first opened four years back.

Now they come through handsomely again, tendering the directors the latest model Tommaster with its new waffle baker, a fine Remington-Rand Electric Shaver, and a truly beautiful Emerson table model radio in color.

Each of these three fine gifts will make a well-receivable prize and each will prove useful.

Among today's other welcome donations is a Wonderland Park Trophy, a lovely piece of sterling, offered so generously by the Bay State Greyhound Racing Association which will shortly be opening its racing doors at the Revere oval.

STAFFORD ON BALL

On top of which Manager Jack Stafford of the host Huntington Club comes through handsomely with another of his personal contributions, a dozen brand new Silca coffee percolators, similar to those which made such hits 12 months ago.

The Wonderland Park Trophy adds on to a list started off when Joe Grant of the Eagle Alleys, Roxbury, and John Ambrose of the Revere Recreation and Central Alleys of Cambridge offered similar prizes.

And yet the list is only started. Touched off by the presentation of 11 costly Gruen Precision wrist watches, a record list will be ready for the official opening.

Manager May McShane of the Northboro Girls' Club, a team which bowls regularly at the Pastime Alleys of Northboro, heads a team entered today. With her will be Virginia Sawyer, Corrine Sawyer, Alma Hogan and Eleanor Buckley.

The employees at Deer Island have gotten themselves together a real fast team and entered it in the title contention. The Islanders look

From Whitinville comes entries in the various events from Newell Wallace, Mizzy Misakian, Harold Farland and Thys Baker. From Haverhill comes the Sterling Five, Rita Doherty, Josephine Buckley, Mary Hallana, Kay Hosmer and Bee Burrage.

Lynn enters its doughty Hawks, composed of Charlie Hemmingsway, Lionel Atwood, Bill Pierce, Joe Cochrane and Sam Menzel. Manchester, N. H., comes in with its Shoemen Five, Izzy Goldman, Sammy Goldman, Murray Presman, Pat Roseman and Jim Richardson.

And still they come and the more they come the better the officials like it.

For everybody's the same once the first ball is tossed down the famous Huntington Club alleys on the afternoon of Saturday, March 25, first day of the championship contention.

Time being short, however, we urge one and all to shoot those signed entries—complete with entry fee—to Jack Stafford, Huntington Club, 255 Huntington Avenue, Boston.

Remember—bowling holds every afternoon and evening—except Sunday—from March 25 through April 8.

EXPERTS DUCK BRUINS AS CINCH IN PLAY-OFFS

By BILL GRIMES

According to the hockey experts and thousands of close students of the game, the Bruins are, and definitely so, the class of the National Hockey League.

Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings has come out flat-footed that there are only two teams in the league, Bruins and Rangers, and that the Bruins have a decided edge over the New Yorkers.

But, when the question, "What will the Bruins do in the play-offs?" is put to them, the experts and the close students start to hew and haw. In other words, that's what they'd like to know.

POOR RECORD

Even the most rapid fans admit that the Rossman haven't fared so well in N. H. L. playoffs. They appreciate the fact that the Bruins won the American division title seven times between 1928 and last season, and they are also aware that their fair-haired heroes chalked up more points than any other club during five out of the last six campaigns.

Here is the Bruin record for the seven years they were the divisional champions. One Stanley cup, one runner-up and five times first-round victims.

A year ago, the "boys" had the Bruins favored to eliminate the Maple Leafs and the Chicago Black Hawks to bow out of the picture early in the series. They were wrong, although you cannot say they were not consistent. They picked them both wrong. The Maple Leafs took the Bruins in three straight games and the Black Hawks, who, during the regular season, didn't show enough stuff to beat Hingham High School, won the Stanley Cup.

Two years ago, with many of his regulars on the injured list, Manager Jack Adams piloted the Red Wings to the Stanley Cup, knocking off Rangers in the finals.

FRANK PATRICK ERRED

There's no question in the mind of the writer but that the Bruins would have won the Stanley Cup in 1936 but for the fact that Frank Patrick used questionable judgment when he assigned Tiny Thompson to guard the nets in Toronto.

The ex-Bruin goal minder was in no condition to play. Percy Jackson was with the club but despite the fact that Tiny had a bad hip, which prevented him from displaying his usual high grade brand of goal minding, and in the face of the fact that the Bruins were leading in a two game total goals series, by three tallies, Patrick sent Thompson to the slaughter and the Leafs beat him for eight goals.

The Maple Leafs eliminated the Bruins in the first round during the 1935 and 1933 series, but nobody has been able to put the finger on the party responsible for the defeat of the Bruins in the spring of 1931, despite the fact that the record books credit the feat to Les Canadiens. That was the "bad series," which put out the Bruins in the first round.

SETS RECORD BUT LONES

The Bruins set up an all-time record by chalking up 77 points in 1939 but after beating the Maroons for the N. H. L. title, they failed to successfully defend their Stanley Cup when Les Canadiens challenged, losing in two straight games.

The Rossman went through the 1929 play-offs in straight games, taking three from the Flying Frenchmen to win their first N. H. L. title and two from Rangers to take possession of the Stanley Cup.

In the scrappy 1928 playoffs, the Bruins, who topped the American Division, were beaten in a total goals series by Rangers 5 to 2 but the previous year, when they qualified for the first time, they went through to the finals by taking the measures of Chicago and Rangers, only to lose the Stanley Cup series to Ottawa.

NO BREAKS FOR BRUINS

So, it's very apparent that the Bruins' record in playoffs is not overimpressive. Year after year, the "breaks" haven't favored the Rossman and as a result they have disbanded before the start of the Stanley Cup series.

40 BIG AMATEURS SEEK AAAU TITLES

Five hours of stirring action is the order of the evening at the Boston Garden next Monday when the annual New England A. A. U. boxing championships will be held.

Promptly at 7.30 the opening bell will get under way and the bell will send a brace of fighting flyweights out swinging—and the 1939 New England boxing championships will have begun. Bouts will be held in all 8 classes at championship weights and forty of the "cream" of the town-pure ranks in this section of the country will battle for titles in 32 battles. These youngsters will battle, not only to win a championship but also to make the grade and catch the eyes of the selection committee which will name the New England team to go to San Francisco for the national boxing championships the second week in April.

Of all the classes which march in this parade of punchers, the featherweights and welterweights will probably come in for more close watching than any other division.

In the 126-pound group Florant Tom Mark, 22-year-old of Manchester, N. H., stone mason, will defend his 1935 title against Nick Sulo, 18-year-old East Boston bellboy; Johnny Rizzo, 19-year-old East Boston high school senior; Ed Dalmaine, 19-year-old Millbury neckwear cutter and the Golden Gloves contender, and John Farron, South Boston, winner of the Diamond Belt championship.

Hope High Wins In Hoop Test

PROVIDENCE, March 10 (AP)—

Hope High School of Providence tonight won its 20th straight victory to qualify as Rhode Island's representative in the 15th annual New England Intercolastic tournament at Springfield next week. Hope's triumph here was by 49-28 over Woonsocket High, the state's class champion.

her money-miracle. Indeed, Hugo Quist had begged the New York Garden to let Sonja do her graceful dances between the halves of a hockey game and offered her for a few hundred dollars. But the New Yorkers pinched their nostrils. "No girl skaters" was the verdict.

BUT THE TIME CAME WHEN MADISON Square was happy to have the Scandinavian cutie at a 50 per cent cut of the gross and, only this winter, paid her a round $80,000 as her share of a seven-day take.

Still later George V., shuffling restlessly for more programs, went West to Texas and induced Col. Johnson to ship his rodeo-cattle and hurricane ponies East. He succeeded this time in forming a combine with New York and several other cities to make an expense-saving circuit. And that, for a few years, rained down some lovely dollars into the coffers in both Boston and Gotham. Then son-Lady invented a skichow with a huge wooden trellis disguised as an indoor Alp and a synthetic lake colored ice. Though even Papa George was inclined to lift his brows at that. But it made money, and New York grabbed the idea for its own.

Still, life at the Garden has been a continual struggle against keeping the big cavern lit and active. The Bruins have been a lifesaver. Paul Bousser has contributed a handsome penny. But those frosty early days of Spring and summer are coming and with them an attendant ache in the pocket book.

So that is why the Garden is wooing the frisky pooches and begging the Race Commission, with tears in its eyes, please, to give them a race-franchise and an allotment of, say, forty days. They think, by building a wooden border around the lower tier of boxes in time for a race opening in April, they can hold it in place for another short meeting in early fall. They think it may save the old homestead!

All-America Stars
In Title Show

N. E. Finals at Garden Monday

HEARST ALL-AMERICA ring champions will come back seeking new action at the New England amateur boxing championships which will be staged at the Garden on next Monday night under the direction of the New England A. A. U.

The winners of Monday night's contests will be in line for consideration as members of the New England team that will compete in the national boxing championships in San Francisco in April.

Tony Davis of Providence, who starred in the 112-pound class of the Hearst All-America tournament, will sweep into action against a classy field of rivals which will include Joe Morrisette, Fall River, 1939 Massachusetts State champion; Paul Bentevegne, Boston; Tony Pepi, Boston, and Eddie DeAngelie, Revere.

The other classes are also sprinkled with boxers who gained fame in the Hearst All-America show.

The heavyweight class should be productive of stirring action. Included in the list of entries are Herbert Connan, Rochdale; Mike Rose, Brockton; Albert Bouchard, Kingston; Joe Mielinski, Uxbridge, and Jack McCarthy, Worcester.

There are some good punchers in the 175-pound division. They include Pat Devine, Cambridge; Leo Gauthier, Northbridge; Philip White, Salem; William Brennan, Cambridge, and John Hanson, Worcester.

Al Priest of Cambridge, who competed in the grand nationals of the Hearst All-America tourney in Detroit, is entered in the 147-pound division. Gene Robichaud, Worcester, another All-America star, is also in this boxing division along with Mike DeNapoli, Roslindale; Frankie Riley, Fall River, and Ernest Andrews, Boston.

Frankie McLean, heavy punching middleweight, will compete. Joe Maruse, North Adams; Tony Buckley, Milford; Armand Remillard, Fisherville, and Joe O'Donnell, Everett, will also take part in this division.

Lightweight Class to Give Action

THE LIGHTWEIGHT class should furnish its share of action. The list of entries includes Theodore Tuggle, Boston, Bill Tordiglione, Boston; Adrian Moris, Fisherville; Serafine Branco, Fall River and Albert Dutra, Cambridge.

The 126-pound division will have as contestants Nick Sullo, East Boston; John Farren, South Boston; Leo Dulmaine, Millbury; John Rizzo, East Boston, and Floriant DesMaris, Manchester, N. H.

The 118-pound division will find John Leonard, Taunton; Herve Liberte, Manchester, N. H.; Andrew Trozzi, Stoneham; John Picariello, South Boston, and Frank Pecoraro, Weymouth, battling for the right to represent New England in California.

There has been a decided growth in interest in amateur boxing. The shows have been of a high type. The Hearst All-America tournament led the way, and did much to increase the popularity of the simon pure game.

President Herb Holm of the New England A. A. U., J. Frank Facey, Gene Driscoll, Gen Levas and other officials of the local amateur organization have done much to improve the calibre of the simon pure game.

Jean Dubuc to Be Honored

THE MANY friends of Jean Dubuc, old-time baseball star, are planning to give him a dinner at Oates Tavern, North Providence, next Tuesday night, to celebrate his fifteenth year as general manager of the Providence Reds, Judge James E. Dooley's fighting hockey club.

Jean commenced his baseball career with the Cincinnati Reds as a pitcher, then for many years pitched for the Detroit Tigers and had as his room-mate another pretty fair country ball player named Ty Cobb. Leaving Detroit, Jean came to the Boston Red Sox, then finished his active playing career with the New York Giants. Later, Dubuc returned to Detroit for a couple of seasons as coach for the young pitchers.

Soft spoken and modest to a degree, Jean is extremely popular in Rhode Island and has done a great job with the Rhode Island Reds, having won the championship in five of his fifteen years, finishing out of the money only twice. It should be a great night for the sportsmen of Rhode Island.

Spring?—Evidence that March is acting like a lion lies in the above shot of the fishing trawler Bittern at Boston Fish Pier. If you look closely you'll see that underneath that load of ice is ship's rigging. Who said spring was near?

Curtsy

—Queen Elizabeth graciously acknowledges a curtsy of Countess of Bessborough at Savoy Theater, London. Such a curtsy of Grace Moore to Duchess of Windsor raised furor in England.

Casualty

—Close to death rode Gerald Mangone, 12, of East Boston when his sled carried him under moving truck. Boy was slightly hurt... but will recover to slide again.
